From Our President

By now, I'm sure you've all figured out that I love Michigan. From the upper peninsula to the lower peninsula, from shore to shore, I think this state is the greatest. I could do with fewer potholes; but, hey.

Earlier this month, I joined a few club members on a casino bus trip to Sault Ste. Marie. I had only been to the Soo once before. I was 12, and our grandparents took us on a little vacation. The Mackinac Bridge was only two years old. You can bet we were awestruck – I still am each time I cross the straits. In the UP, we were treated to “Mystery Spot” just outside of St. Ignace. As kids, my sister Peggy, brother Jim, and I thought it was pretty cool. (Do you know that place actually still exists? Crazy. Some tourist traps never go away.) At the Soo, we took an excursion boat through the locks. Loved it, too. The only downside to the trip – Peggy and I shared a bed at a hotel in Mackinaw City. We were goofing around, she tickled me, I jerked and got my head stuck in the brass headboard. She has never let me forget that. But, I digress.

The bus trip north was fun. Going in October made it sort of a color tour – what a bonus. We all had so much fun. Wine tasting both nights with the Doty's. Lots of tasty food in casino restaurants. Sue Keith and I took a shuttle to downtown one afternoon. She shopped and walked while I took a boat trip through the locks. It's still captivating. Did you guys know it's the world's busiest locks – and, passage is free? Back to the casino. I'm terrible at gambling. Well, for me, it's not really gambling. It's more like making donations to our Native Americans. Case in point – on the last morning, I entered a tournament. Only a $5.00 entry fee. “It's easy,” I was told. The slot machines are set up for the tournament by the casino. All you have to do is press the button – you choose your own pace. Everyone was given the same “bank”, and the same amount of time to win points. “Simple. Everyone has an equal chance to win,” I was told. Hah! When it was my turn, I was directed to the machine next to Janet Iansiti's. I thought I was doing exactly the same thing she was. Hah, again! Somehow, she managed to suck all the energy out of the room and redirect it to her machine. Someone called it a vortex. It was dizzying. When it was all over, she won the tournament – I came in last. Last! She won money, I got a pickle. A pickle! It was glass, I couldn't even eat it. None-the-less, I had a lot of fun. I can't wait to do it again.

I want to close by mentioning that November is the month to give thanks. I am blessed to live in this great country, beautiful state, and honored to call you all friends. Life is good – well, except for that pickle incident.

Stay warm, everyone, and save the wave.

Sandy Bechtel

News for Members

Editor's Notes:

The mid-engine corvette for the next generation rumor is back. According to the November 2014 issue of Motor Trend, the mid engine vette is a go!

Every new generation corvette is speculated to have a mid-engine starting back with the C2. The name for the new vette is to be the Zora after Zora Arkus-Duntov “the man who made the corvette the performance icon it is today”. On June 2nd Chevrolet trade marked this name, so it must be true.

The speculation is the existing platform (C7) would be maintained and the Zora would be a $200k optional model. We'll have to wait and see.

Well winter is fast approaching so it's time to think about winterizing your car. Check out tech tips for some ideas.

According to a CNN Money article the 2015 Z06 did 0-60 in 2.95 seconds in acceleration tests. In order to achieve this time, the 8 speed automatic is required. The 7 speed manual is about a 1/5 of a second slower. I guess this means you'll see the SRT Viper in your rear view mirror.

Winter Storage Tips

- Wash, dry and wax.
- Change oil & filter.
- Check antifreeze
- Over Inflate tires to about 45 PSI and set tires on thick carpet pieces.
- Add a good gas stabilizer to fuel tank
- Install Battery Tender. No need to remove or disconnect the battery.
- Add Moth balls (in several small pantyhose type footies) under the hood. This keeps mice away from nibbling on hoses, rubber parts, sparkplug wires, etc.
- Place fabric softener sheets in the foot wells and rear area. This is thought to discourage small varmints or mice. Even if it doesn't, the car will smell nice.
- Unhitch the top latches on convertibles so that the top is relaxed for the winter.
- Remove any freezable liquids you may have in your storage compartments.
- Block tail pipe openings to keep mice or red squirrels from nesting. Steel wool is a good choice or tuperware caps if they fit tight.
- Another good option is to put a vinyl tarp on the ground or garage floor under your car, even if it's cement. Moisture rises through the floor and the tarp will help prevent condensation on your undercarriage.
- Put on a good car cover and wait for Spring.

Reading Diagnostic Trouble Codes (DTC)

All C5's have the ability to display Diagnostic Trouble Codes on the Driver Information Center (below instrument cluster). Other models require an OBDII code reader connected to the diagnostic connector.

1. Turn the key to the ON position, but don't start the engine.
2. Clear any present messages by pressing the RESET button.
3. Hold the OPTIONS button down, and press the FUEL button 4 times. This will get you into the CODES section of the Driver Information Center (DIC) below instrument cluster.

The computer will automatically display all the codes your car has generated. It will cycle through each code every 3 seconds. Any code that ends in H is a history code (something that has occurred in the past).

Once the computer has finished stepping through all of it's codes, press RESET to enter Manual Configuration mode. It should start with a module and either display "NO CODES" or "number of CODES".

To reset the codes – optional - if you wish to clear codes

1. When a code is displayed in the manual mode press and hold RESET until it displays "NO CODES".
2. Press OPTIONS to go to the next module.
3. Repeat these steps until you have reset the codes in all the computer modules.
